

Code of Conduct

Langate Group

Purpose

The Langate Group Code of Conduct (“Code”) sets the highest standards of ethical business conduct. Our commitment to these standards helps us hire great people, build great products, and attract loyal customers.

Who Must Follow the Code?

All employees and contractors must know and follow the Code. Failure to do so can result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination. Consultants and one-time workers must also follow the Code when working with us. Failure to comply can result in the termination of their relationship with Langate Group.

Who to Ask About the Code?

If you have questions or concerns about the Code, contact your manager. You can also raise concerns about suspected violations with your manager.

No Retaliation

Langate Group prohibits retaliation against anyone who reports or participates in an investigation of a possible violation of our Code, policies, or the law. Contact senior management if you believe you are experiencing retaliation.

Code of Conduct

As a Langate Group employee or contractor, you are expected to be honest, act ethically, and demonstrate integrity. Follow the policies and procedures in this Code and those specific to your job. Comply with all applicable laws. Use common sense and good judgment. If unsure, ask someone on the management team.

Before You Act, Ask Yourself:

- Is this the right thing to do?
- Is it legal?
- Do I have the authority to act?
- Does the action comply with the Code and policies?
- How would this look in the news?
- Would I be upset or embarrassed if others found out?

If you have doubts, talk with your supervisor, management, or the Compliance Officer. Supervisors and managers must know the rules, review the Code with their teams, prevent violations, and report any that occur.

You’re Expected to:

- Lead with integrity.
- Encourage questions and knowledge about the rules.
- Act promptly and effectively when necessary.

- Educate on compliance policies specific to job responsibilities.

Quality Work Environment

We are committed to a supportive work environment free of harassment, intimidation, bias, and unlawful discrimination.

Equal Opportunity Employment

Employment at Langate Group is based on merit and qualifications. We prohibit unlawful discrimination or harassment based on race, color, religion, veteran status, national origin, ancestry, pregnancy status, sex, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, disability, medical condition, sexual orientation, or any other protected characteristics. We make reasonable accommodations for disabilities.

Harassment, Discrimination, and Bullying

Langate Group prohibits discrimination, harassment, and bullying in any form. Report incidents to your manager or HR. HR will investigate and take appropriate action.

Drugs and Alcohol

Substance abuse is not permitted. Alcohol is allowed on special occasions, but use good judgment. Illegal drugs are strictly prohibited.

Safe Workplace

We are committed to a violence-free work environment. Do not bring weapons to work. Report any violations to senior management immediately.

Avoid Conflicts of Interest

Avoid conflicts of interest and situations that appear to be conflicts. Common areas include:

- Outside employment, advisory roles, and board seats
- Business opportunities found through work
- Inventions influenced by work
- Business opportunities involving friends and relatives
- Acceptance of gifts, entertainment, and business courtesies

If unsure, contact HR.

Preserve Confidentiality

Protect all nonpublic information according to its sensitivity, value, and risk. Secure information at rest, in transit, and destroy it securely. Refer to the Data Classification Policy for details.

Information Security

Use Langate Group's computer resources properly. Follow information security policies and procedures. Steps to prevent unauthorized access include:

- Never share login information.
- Lock your workstation when stepping away.
- Log off at the end of the day.
- Clear sensitive information from your workstation, waste can, printers, and fax machines.

Protect Langate Group's Assets

Intellectual Property

Langate Group's intellectual property (patents, trademarks, copyrights, trade secrets) are valuable assets. Unauthorized use can lead to loss of value. Comply with intellectual property laws. Report misuse to Legal or Compliance.

Respect others' intellectual property rights. Seek advice from Legal before using proprietary information from outside the company.

Company Equipment

Contractors and self-employed specialists should provide their own equipment. Langate Group can provide equipment on request. The basic requirements for working from home include:

- A comfortable working environment (desk, chair, computer).
- Reliable, high-speed internet.
- No extraneous obligations (e.g., childcare, overseeing construction).
- Do not use office equipment for personal purposes without permission.

The Network

Langate Group's network, software, and hardware are critical assets. Follow security policies. Report any security violations to your manager.

Physical Security

Secure your laptop, equipment, and personal belongings. Report suspicious activity to your manager.

Ensure Financial Integrity and Responsibility

Everyone at Langate Group must ensure money is spent appropriately, that financial records are accurate, and that internal controls are followed. Retain records according to the Data Retention Policy. If asked to retain records for litigation, audit, or investigation, do so until advised otherwise by Legal. Contact Financial or Legal teams with questions.

Obey the Law

Comply with all applicable laws and regulations. Understand the laws relevant to your work. Contact Compliance or Legal with questions.

Policy Compliance

Compliance Measurement

The Compliance team will verify compliance through reviews, reports, audits, and feedback.

Exceptions

Any exceptions to this Code must be approved by the Compliance team in writing.

Non-Compliance

Violations of this Code may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination, and potential civil and criminal liability.

Annual Acknowledgment of the Code of Conduct

Each year, you must acknowledge receipt and understanding of the Code. New employees and contractors will sign an acknowledgment upon starting. Your acknowledgment confirms that:

- You've reviewed and will comply with the Code.
- You will follow compliance policies and job-specific procedures.
- You will report any violations or concerns.
- You haven't acted contrary to the Code.
- You have reported any potential conflicts of interest.
